

SERVICE CHAMPION (m/f)

Service Marketing

Full time internship / position

FAZUA is a small, young, and international company based in Munich since 2013. evation, our product, is the lightest and most compact drive system for eBikes in its category. Containing motor, electronics and battery in a single unit, its magic resides on the integrated design as well as on the possibility to be clicked in and out from the down tube at any time.

With some of the biggest bike manufacturers behind, our product is about to shape the future of the eBike market. To continue bringing our cutting-edge technology to market and foster the relationships with our current partners, dealers and cyclists we urgently need to recruit very special new warriors for our team.

As our Service Champion you will help to implement our newly developed service concept, by e.g. taking care of - dealer certifications - preparation of service-related content for the FAZUA service website - Phone support for dealers and cyclists - Handling service requests through the help desk software as well as hands on in our workshop. Thereby, you generate service credibility in the market for FAZUA, increase customer loyalty and enable FAZUA to raise the next level.
